

RENTS ARE TO BE STABILIZED BY GOV'T IN BUCKS COUNTY

Will Be Pegged at March 1st Levels Except Where Noted

IN PHILADELPHIA DIST
May Impose Federal Regulations When Areas Fail To Comply

By International News Service
WASHINGTON, Apr. 28.—Fourteen Pennsylvania areas among 302 in the nation today were designated by Leon Henderson as defense rental areas where rents will be stabilized at levels no higher than existed on March 1, 1942.

The price administrator's action thus voided rent increases of May 1.
"I appeal to every landlord and every tenant to co-operate with each other and their government to guarantee the success of this program."

"Sixty days from today, if rents in any of the 302 newly-named areas have not been stabilized or reduced to the levels recommended, the price administrator is empowered to impose Federal regulations in areas failing to comply," he added.

Pennsylvania, Delaware, and Maryland defense-rental areas where rents are to be pegged at the March 1, 1942, levels excepting where noted, with 1940 populations, include among others:

Philadelphia-Camden, covering Bucks, Chester, Delaware, Montgomery and Philadelphia counties, and Burlington, Camden, and Gloucester counties, N. J., population 3,199,637.

Rostock Devastation Enormous; Entire Evacuation

New York—Devastation wrought in the German city of Rostock by British air raids is so great that the "whole town" must be evacuated, the British radio reported from Stockholm today, according to CBS.

Rumor Dismissal of Mussolini

Buenos Aires—Rumors that King Victor Emmanuel of Italy has dismissed Premier Mussolini and Foreign Minister Count Ciano were circulating today among diplomatic circles in Buenos Aires.

The King has asked Marshal Badoglio, former Italian Chief of Staff, to form a new government for the purpose of negotiating peace, the rumors said.
(Note:—There was no confirmation elsewhere of the Argentine rumors.)

U. S. Naval Forces Operating in Mediterranean

London—Official British circles were jubilant today over President Roosevelt's revelation of the heretofore closely kept secret that U. S. naval forces were operating in the Mediterranean.

Authoritative sources said it could not be disclosed at this time whether the American warships were reinforcing the British Mediterranean Fleet or operating independently, but it was felt that the U. S. vessels were working in close co-operation with the British.

"Unidentified Object" Causes California Alert

San Francisco—Officers of the Fourth Air Force reported today that "an unidentified object" sighted off the coast brought the "yellow" warning that put the Los Angeles area on the alert for 38 minutes this morning.

The Fourth Air Force refused to say whether the object later was identified, or whether it was sea or air borne.

Corregidor Continues To Repel Bombing

Washington—Powerful Corregidor today continued to repel Japanese dive bombing and artillery onslaughts, as American guns silenced enemy shore batteries, broke up troop concentrations and sank a medium sized armed vessel in Manila Bay.

This was reported in a communique which also intimated that the Japanese are moving with increased determination to throttle continuing American-Filipino resistance.

Intimation of Japanese plans was contained in a statement today that the Japs are advancing against isolated American-Filipino patrols in Northern Luzon.

Danger of "Jap" Invasion Has Not Subsidized

Melbourne—Arrival of strong additional U. S. reinforcements in Australia was revealed today by Prime Minister John Curtin who at the same time warned that the danger of a Japanese invasion at the Commonwealth had not subsided.

He disclosed that at least 150 Jap bomber and fighter planes had been destroyed and at least another 100 damaged by United Nations air action at New Guinea and elsewhere in the Southwest Pacific.

Curtin told the House of Representatives in Canberra that "notwithstanding the Japanese losses of aircraft and shipping the Government regards an outright attack on Australia as a constant and undiminished danger." He added:

"Japan is still almost at will to reinforce the Timor and New Guinea areas with men and aircraft."

Red Army Smashes German Counter-Offensive

Moscow—Repeated German attempts to launch a counter offensive in the vital Smolensk area of the Russian front have been smashed by the Red Army with heavy losses to Hitler's forces, advisers reaching Moscow said today.

At the same time, the supplement to an official Soviet communique said the Russians had also beaten back German counter thrusts in one sector of the Kalinin front, northwest of Moscow, and had improved their own positions in an offensive maneuver at another point in the same area.

Tanks and aircraft figured heavily in the attempted Nazi counter attacks east of Smolensk, but all of the thrusts were unsuccessful and the Germans lost a thousand men in the process, a report said.

In the Kalinin front engagements, the Russians claimed to have killed 400 Germans during their own advance and an additional 200 Nazis while repulsing the counter blows.

UPSURGE OF OPINION GREATLY FAVORS MARTIN

Powerful Republican Leader In Allegheny County Gives His Endorsement

STATEMENTS ISSUED

An upsurge of Martin-for-Governor sentiment, sweeping through the State with the turn of sensational developments during the past few days has definitely placed "Pennsylvania's No.
1 Soldier" far out in front for the Republican gubernatorial nomination at the primary election on May 19th.

The tide in western Pennsylvania began to roll high for General Martin over the past week-end with the endorsement of his candidacy by James F. Malone, powerful Republican leader in Allegheny County.

Malone said: "I do not feel this is the time to satisfy the political ambitions of anybody. We are faced with two problems in electing a Governor this year. First and foremost is winning the war. Second, the selection of a man qualified to manage our State government, honestly, economically, and efficiently. General Martin's election will be a protection for us of inestimable value."

WASHINGTON, Apr. 29.—Deliveries of newspapers will be restricted to once a day at any one point beginning May 15, an Office of Defense Transportation official said today in an in-

CONFINED TO HOSPITAL; ILL WITH ANTHRAX

Gottlieb W. Schulz, Middletown Twp., Contracts Rare Disease

IN ABINGTON HOSPITAL

The third case of anthrax to develop in this section during the past few years has confined a Hultmeville resident to Abington Hospital.

The victim is Gottlieb W. Schulz, who resides on a small farm in Middletown Township, just outside of Hulme-ville borough.

Schulz, who is reported to have sustained a burn on his arm while at his employment at the plant of Tan Art Company recently, was treated by Dr.
Frank Lehman. When an infection of the arm became quite serious, anthrax was suspected, and Schulz was removed to Abington Hospital.

There treatment was administered immediately to off-set the anthrax, as results of the investigation of the possibility of such disease were awaited.
Yesterday afternoon, Abington Hospital officials informed the Bristol physician in the case that Schulz is suffering from anthrax, but that he is doing well.

Schulz is married, he and his family having residing near Hultmeville for the past several years.

Economic Defeatists

Washington, April 28.
FEW persons will dissent from the denunciations of defeatism which recently have come from various Administration
spokesmen.

Especially, they have inveighed against those who deliberately seek to stir up race and class feeling; who calculatingly aid Hitler by disparagement of our Allies, the Russians and the British; who suggest the possibility of stalemate and a negotiated peace.

THAT defeatists of these types should no longer be tolerated is an idea with which the bulk of Americans are—and have been—in hearty accord, as attested very recently by the Republicans at Chicago. However, it seems timely to point out two things. One is that there are

PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF BUCKS COUNTY TO HANDLE BIG TASK

Over 100,000 Ration Books To Be Distributed In County

21 CO-ORDINATORS

Examinations To Be Held In County Schools May
14th and 15th

The public schools of Bucks County are ready for the most momentous task ever assigned to them, the Civilian War Ration Registration, May 4th to 7th. Unparalleled in history is the ration registration program in which in Bucks County over 100,000 books will be distributed through the elementary schools.

A plan has been developed by Charles H. Boehm, County Superintendent, with the approval of Robert Von-Hintz, Chairman of the County Ration Board, by which a supervised and coordinated program of registration will be put into effect.

Twenty-one co-ordinators have been named by Superintendent Boehm, and they have received all books and instructions at a meeting held in the County Education Building.

In each of the 21 areas the co-ordinator met the teacher in one general meeting and distributed the books and instructions. All daily telephone reports and the collection of all remaining materials will be conducted through the same channels.

About 30,000 cards will be distributed to the parents of school children requesting them to report on different days between two and five p. m., to avoid rush hours. Rural schools, because of lack of electric lights, will be open from two p. m. to eight p. m., and all other places from two p. m. to nine p. m.

The co-ordinators are:
Area 1—Warren Snyder, A. Kurtz King, Andrew Jackson, Andrew J.
Chamberlain.

Area 2—Manoah Reiter, W. A.
Thomas, F. Eugene Klinger, Raymond Gilbert, Ross Neagley, Eldon Sowers, Warren Smith.

Area 3—J. Leonard Halderman, Horace Lauff, Theodore Gottlieb, John Grasse, Stanley Landis, Nero Fretz.
Area 4—Joseph S. Neldig, Robert Shafer, Lewis N. Snyder, G. Raymond Todd.

The annual conference of Bucks County secretaries has been postponed from May 6th to Tuesday, May 19th, because of War Ration Registration on the former date.

Annual county examinations will be conducted on two half days this year.

WILL DISCUSS PLANS FOR JULY 4TH CELEBRATION

Meeting Called For Tomorrow Evening in the Municipal Building

URGE ALL TO ATTEND

A meeting of the Independence Day Celebration Committee for Bristol and the Adjacent Communities has been called for tomorrow evening at eight o'clock in the Bristol Municipal Building. The meeting has been called by Anthony Russo, who for the past several years has served as chairman.

All individuals and representatives of organizations or groups, who are interested, are urged to attend the meeting tomorrow evening. It is the desire of Mr. Russo and others interested to get the opinion of the public:

First—Should a celebration be held?
Second—What should be its nature and character?
Third—How elaborate should the celebration be?

The holding of a celebration does not mean a display of fireworks.
It has been suggested that the celebration, this year, be in the nature of a parade depicting the progress and advancement made by the various races immigrating to America.

Nothing definite has been decided, however, and it is urged that those who are interested attend the meeting tomorrow night, so as to express their opinions and give the committee an idea as to what they have in mind, concerning the affair. Unless there is a representative group at the meeting tomorrow night the committee will be handicapped as to how to proceed with the plans.

It has been suggested that all civilian defense groups be included in the July 4th demonstration.

HOARDING CASH, TIRES

Millions of loyal Americans, vitally interested in the prosecution of the war to early victory, continue to ask themselves: What can I do to help win the war? The news from Washington currently indicates that a re-phrasing of the question for some might be helpful. The question might be changed to read: What am I doing or failing to do that is hampering the war effort of the nation?

The Federal Reserve Board has estimated that $2,000,000,000 of American money is being hoarded.
The board rightly contends that such action is foolish. This money, if invested in war bonds, could be kept more safely and it could earn interest for the owner.

Officials in the rubber trade estimate that 100,000,000 old tires or their equivalent in other forms of used rubber will be needed in the United States for war and essential civilian purposes in the next two years. Since the country entered the war there has been much talk of expanding the nation's rubber reclaiming plant capacity. The present problem is to get enough scrap rubber to keep the country's existing facilities operating full time.

In December, 1940, there was more than a year's supply of used rubber held in the trade. Now there is only a four months' supply. Worn tires in the past have constituted the main source of scrap rubber. Yet motorists, even though most of them seem to believe that the rubber shortage will be solved, appear reluctant to give up their old tires.
The alarming drop in current collections of scrap rubber in most parts of the country is attributed to this cause.

Everyone in a position to aid the government by buying bonds or making a direct contribution to the current war effort by taking immediate action.

SERVICE DEPENDENTS

The bill to provide allowances for dependents of men in the armed services, which is now before Congress at the request of the War Department, follows the principle of the law which was in effect during the last war. Its provisions are geared to the purchasing power of the present dollar. It proposes a 33 per cent increase in the allowance to a wife, or $40 a month, and other allowances in proportion.

The bill applies to dependents of enlisted men only, and the men must allot $20 or $25 a month from their pay. The government will pay the remainder. There is also a provision that the security administration may augment the allowance when it finds that the legal allowance is not sufficient for a fair support. Presumably this is proposed in order to discourage divorces when there are a sufficient number of children to enable the mother to get more money through social security than by al-liment.

Although draft boards are taking few men with dependents, they may take more soon, when it can be shown that the registrant acquired dependents in anticipation of induction. The fact that enlisted men marry after enlistment also presents a dependency problem that must be faced. It seems likely that the measure will be passed substantially as drawn.

If the shortage of tea is confined to some of the varieties served in restaurants, good.

The Great Game of Politics

vestment, that the profit system cannot survive the war; that after victory some form of collectivism is certain to take the place of American capitalism.

THESE things, of course, are not true. No matter what the cost of this war, the American people can and will pay it. No matter how high the debt, they can carry it. No matter how painfully they are taxed, they will stand it. There is no need for repudiation nor for depreciation, no excuse to substitute for the system upon which this country has rested securely for 150 years any unproved economic experiment; no reason for the belief that after the war America must be "remade." Nevertheless, these and similar thoughts are being expressed and spread in every corner of the country. They constitute the worst type of defeatism, because they tend to undermine public confidence in the stability and soundness of their Government. It will be conceded that no greater contribution to the Axis cause could be made.

BUT not from the White House nor the Office of Facts and Figures nor from any other Administration source has there been a voice raised to denounce these economic defeatists. Why? Why is the Administration so violently against the feeble type and so complacent about those who mean so much more? The plain answer is that these defeatists who predict that we will collapse under the burden of a $150,000,000,000 national debt, and that the American system of free enterprise is doomed, get their real encouragement from the Administration itself.

THE Administration, of course, does not want these things to happen.
What it does, however, is supply the material without which assertions such as these could not be put forth at all. It is the lack of an intelligent and effective financial policy and of a firmly avowed purpose to protect the existing economic system that makes such assertions plausible and their realization possible. None of the things forecast by the economic defeatists can happen if this Administration is determined they shall not happen. They can happen, and very likely will happen, if the Government continues to resist the effort to regain control of the Federal finances by reducing non-war expenditures and declines to adopt a realistic and sensible taxation program.

THERE are three distinct reasons for this talk about the lack of the investment safety of defense bonds; about the inability of the nation to stand up under a $150,000,000,000 debt; about the passing of the free enterprise system after the war. And all three are based on the White House attitude. One is the failure of the President to stop the incredible waste of public money now going on in Washington. A second is his opposition to the sales or any other tax that will affect the great mass of low-income individuals, whose earnings constitute more than half the total national income.

and who are now untouched by direct taxation. The third is the keeping in key governmental positions of men who do not believe in the profit system; who see in the war an opportunity to move toward these radical goals and are more concerned in pushing ahead New Deal "reforms" than in anything else.

A CLEAR governmental determination to avert the sort of financial chaos forecast by these defeatists will avert it. It would, indeed, be fine if some of our oratorical officials should examine their own surroundings with the idea of vaccinating against this evil of which they do not speak. There is no single thing today that would so greatly promote the national interests and further our war effort than a firm

White House move to end waste and eliminate the incompetent young radicals in governmental positions of power. "And," as one wise man recently said, "nothing could more lift the national spirit than an authoritative expression of adherence to the American system of private initiative and enterprise." Of course, such an expression can only be authoritative if it comes from Mr. Roosevelt. In his message Monday he did no more than touch on the subject. Wouldn't it be worth while for some of these earnest young men, who so vigorously lectured the press last week, to use their undoubted closeness to the President to get from him some such expression—an expression so emphatic and reassuring as to squell the economic defeatist for good?

Pastor, Bristol Presbyterian Church

Dear Lord, our Heavenly Father, let us do our work each day, and if the darkened hours of despair overcome us, may we not forget the strength that comforted us in the desolation of other times. In these times, when so many allures are held out by the world, let that great force which turned our life from darkness into Thy most marvellous light be ever present, and the "refining fire" go through our hearts, illuminating our souls. In the Name of Christ Jesus our Lord. Amen.

an organization of 200,000 young men and women, will support General Martin, who founded the organization in 1932.

The endorsement made by Acting State Chairman George H. Walker of Mahanoy City, climaxed two regional meetings of eastern, central and western leaders, and the resolution described General Martin as "a man of extraordinary civil and military attainments."

In an accompanying statement, Acting Chairman Walker delivered a sharp rebuff to the candidacy of Senator Davis by accusing him of "adopting a condescending attitude toward younger men and women whose objective through the years has been to inoculate the party with fresh ideas and young blood."

Walker said further: "General Martin has always been sympathetic toward the platform of the Young Republicans of Pennsylvania. He is an honored military hero and trusted public servant. His ideas are full of vitality and his military and civil accomplishments are Pennsylvania's guarantee that he is the logical man to direct its wartime destiny."

Charges that Senator Davis was clinging to an isolationist policy out of step with the "all out war declaration of the Republican National Party and a nation now fully aware that it faces a life and death struggle" were made by M. Harvey Taylor, campaign manager for General Martin, in reply to Davis' assertion that Martin wanted to set up a "military dictatorship in Pennsylvania."

Said Taylor: "Senator Davis' attempt to minimize the importance of a militant front in combating the grim challenge of Hitlerism shows the same brazen contempt for the perils which this country now faces as when he voted against every defense measure vital to the security and future of this great nation. The only dictatorship need fear is the unholy alliance that exists between Davis and that arch enemy of every honest working man, John L. Lewis. It is by any grave mistake, Davis should be Governor, John L. Lewis not only would be the iron-fisted dictator of labor's rights for the next four years but he would, in truth, be Pennsylvania's secret Governor."

Taylor also ridiculed a charge by Davis that Pennsylvania faced the prospect of martial law if General Martin became Governor.

"If Pennsylvania is ever placed under martial law that action will come from the Democrats in Washington who are whooping it up so vigorously for Davis because they know they can beat him at the November election," Taylor added. "It is hard to figure just how Davis considers himself an authority on wartime emergencies and military strategy. By his vote against every vital defense measure he displayed an appalling lack of military understanding which may cost us the lives of thousands of soldiers and billions in treasure before this war is won."

Vernon H. Kunkle, young Republican leader in York County and former supporter of Senator Davis, in announcing he had accepted the county chairmanship for General Martin's campaign, said: "I do not believe that Senator Davis is keeping faith with the people of Pennsylvania by deserting his Senatorial duties to which he was elected by seeking the Governorship. We are for General Martin because he is best fitted for the job."

Albert Dowden, upon the invitation of the Council, discussed the duties of the demolition squad of the Bucks County Defense Council, which he heads. Briefly he stated that the duties of these squads are to protect the public where buildings have been made dangerous due to bombing or other catastrophe. Ten squads have been set-up in the lower Bucks County area, including Bensalem Township, Bristol Township, Bristol Borough and Tullytown Borough. Each squad is headed by a man with experience in the work and who is familiar with tools. Much equipment is at the command of the squads and include steam shovels, powder, air tools, and various other types of equipment.

The picture is based on the best-selling biography by Rebecca Yancey Williams. It closely follows the narrative, with Frank Morgan appearing in the title role as Cap'n Bob Yancey, the author's father. Morgan is completely in command of the fiery, lovable character he impersonates.

The story is without artificiality in plot or treatment. It is merely the account of Cap'n Bob Yancey, for many years the State's Attorney for the City of Lynchburg, and his remarkable family.

Owls Pound Out A Total of Ten Base Hits

By Jack Gill
The Bensalem Owls continued to hit heavily and for extra bases yesterday as they registered an easy 13 to 1 triumph over the Bryn Athyn Academy nine. Coach Woody Wetherhold's charges played good ball behind the splendid four hit twirling of left-handed Hugh Deans to account for the win.

Deans had a shutout in his grasp until he reached the final seventh inning. At that stage he weakened and the Academy lads shoved over their only marker of the fray.

Bill Lamb and hard hitting Pete Everett played prominent roles in the Owls latest victory. Although the Cornwells Heights aggregation sewed the contest up in the initial inning with a six run outburst, both Lamb and Everett connected for home runs in the fourth inning with a man on base to add four more markers to the total. All of this occurred with two men out.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE TO HAVE ONLY FIVE TEAMS

The Bristol Softball League will operate with five teams this season. This announcement was made by President Daniel DiLorenzo after a meeting of the circuit was held in the Diamond Store, Mill street.

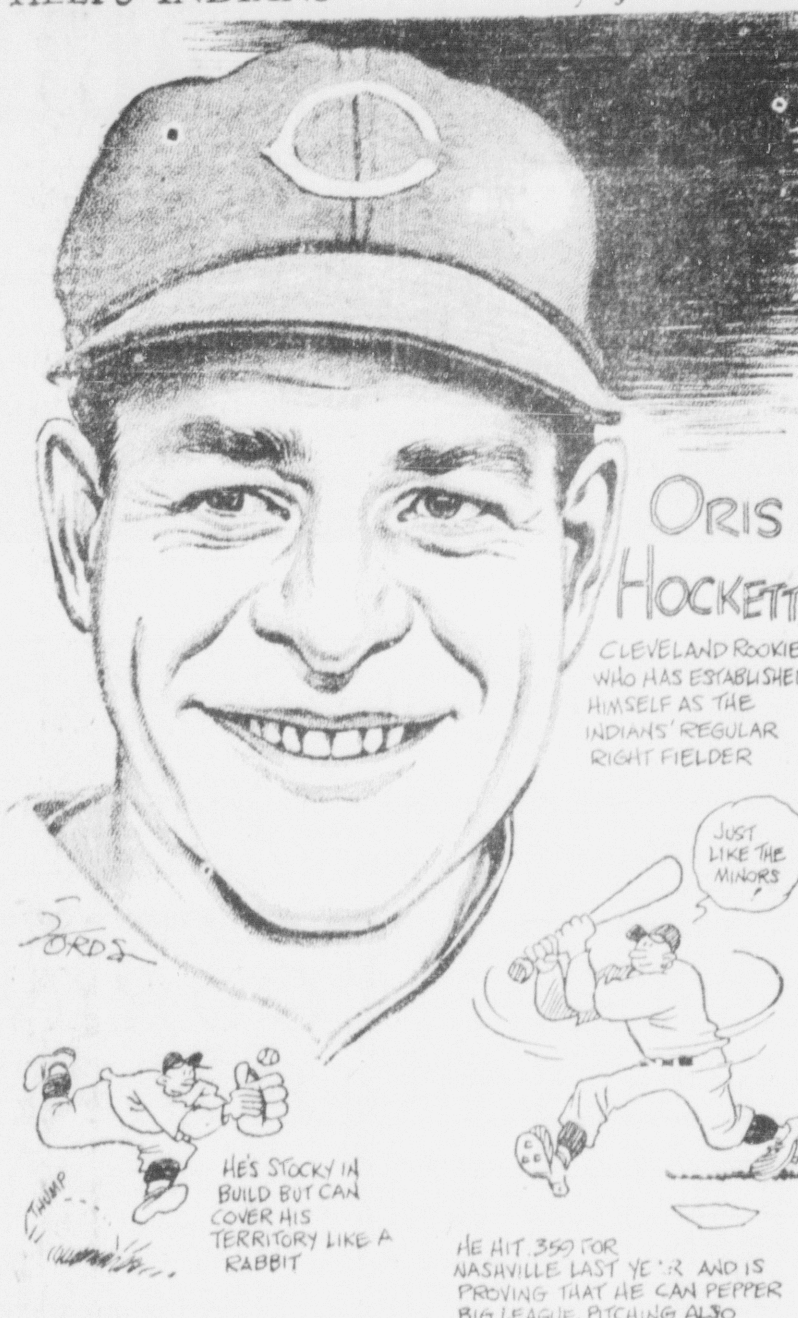

Clubs in the circuit are: Franklin, Fifth Ward, Diamond, Bancroft-Hickey and Wilson's. Rohn & Haas and Fleetwings did not enter teams in the loop. It was also announced that should a sixth team desire to enter the league, it should contact President DiLorenzo or Secretary Joseph Diamanti at once.

Games will be played on Monday and Thursday evenings. Efforts will be made to secure Leedom's and the Rohn and Haas fields. The season opens Monday evening, May 11.

Representatives at the meeting last night were: Wilson's, Barney Ussett; Bancroft-Hickey, Jack Feehan; Fifth Ward, Pat Capecchi; Franklin, Michael LaSalle, and Diamond, Ray Nichols.

If you have a house to rent, advertise it in The Courier.

CHIPS OFF THE DIAMONDS

By THOMAS JUNO

The war has caused two teams to withdraw from the Bristol Suburban League. It has also caused several teams to lose players who are now in the armed forces of Uncle Sam.

Because production comes first, Fleetwings and Rohn & Haas gave this as one of their reasons for not entering the loop this season. Inability to get players off from shift work to field a formidable team was the reason given.

However, Fleetwings intends to play week-end ball under the management of Joe Dougherty. Their first game is scheduled for Sunday with the Voltz-Texaco team as the opposing team.

As usual, Milt Jones is circulating the story that he will not do any pitching this season but intends to manage the Badenhausen team from the bench. We still think that Milt's cunny-thumb outshoot can fool a lot of batters in the circuit.

"Mike" DeRisi is getting himself into trim to do some playing. He hurled against the Voltz-Texaco team for Diamond over the week-end and did a fine job. This season will be Mike's 19th season of pitching.

Transportation difficulty has caused the disbandment of the American Legion Junior Baseball League. And it was Bristol's turn to cop this pennant, according to "Henny" Morgan, who managed the team the past two seasons. "Henny" had practically his entire team back this season.

Wally Oppman, who played with Rohn & Haas last season, and was awarded the trophy for being the league's most valuable player, is now in training with the U. S. air force.

"Johnny" Dougherty and Charlie Hughes who also played the infield position in the league with various teams will be greatly missed. We believe Leedom's field for his home games.

Broccoli Most Nutritious Member of Its Family

Though cauliflower is one of the most popular of vegetables, it is not among the most nutritious because the edible portion is white, and white vegetables lack vitamins. It is also considered fairly difficult for the amateur to grow.

Broccoli, on the other hand, is an ideal home garden vegetable, tastes like cauliflower, and is green, and among the richest in vitamins. It can be grown easily from seed sown in the open ground, and yields a continuous harvest from midsummer until killing frosts arrive.

Broccoli, an old-time vegetable in one form, has become popular through the introduction of a green branching type, the Italian green sprouting.

Its thick stems bear dense heads of green flower buds. Unlike the cauliflower, these heads are of perfect flowers and not degenerate forms such as the "curd" of the white types. If the Italian broccoli stands too long in the market or in the garden the buds begin to open into yellow mustard-like flowers.

The thick stems near the flower heads are also edible and of as fine a flavor as the heads of buds. The leaves, however, are stronger in flavor and while esteemed by foreign cooks do not appeal to the American taste, which takes only to the thick tender stems and flower heads.

The vegetable is easily grown in the home garden, requiring only the same treatment as cabbage. There is no necessity for tying up leaves as in cauliflower and the stalk bears a main head and when cut develops a number of side branches with edible heads. It is delicious served steamed or boiled with Hollandaise sauce or merely with a dressing of melted butter. It should not be overcooked, but requires a little longer than cauliflower or cabbage because of the solidity of the stems. Rich soil and good cultivation are its sole needs. The plants may be set a-foot to 18 inches apart in the garden with rows spaced about two feet apart. Apply plant food at the rate of a teaspoonful to the

FALLSINGTON WINS GAME FROM RICHBORO; ONLY FIVE HITS MADE IN ENTIRE CONTEST

FALLSINGTON, Apr. 29—With only five hits made in the entire game, the Falls Township team won its second straight Lower Bucks County contest yesterday afternoon when "Ed" Frenier blanked the Richboro high school, 1-0, on the home field.

Frenier, Coach DeRisi's freshman "find" of the season, held the Richboro team to two hits. He struck out seven and issued but one pass. However, two rifle throws from "Johnny" Mansmann's arm helped him out of a pair of tight spots.

In the third frame, Kenderline reached base as the result of an error by Anderson. He stood there while Luff fled out and then attempted to make third on a single to center by Daniels but Mansmann's throw to third beat the runner. In the sixth, Anderson again gave the Richboro team a lift by erroring on S. Davis' grounder. On a wallop to center by Diehle, Davis attempted to reach third but was nailed in his tracks by Mansmann's throw.

Frenier had to be good to win the pitcher's battle for "Kenny" Kenderline was equally as good for the Richboro team. The invading hurler limited the homesters to a trio of hits and fanned nine batters. He walked four batters, three coming in the last session and after the first batter in the second inning singled, he failed to allow a hit.

Jaegers Lose Suit To Cousin Over A Farm

DOYLESTOWN, Apr. 29—Following a two day trial in civil court here, Judge Calvin S. Boyer yesterday directed a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs, Hermann J. J. Meyer and his wife, Babette M. Meyer, of Princeton, N. J., in connection with the ownership of a farm in Springfield township.

The defendants, Frederick W. Jaeger and his wife, Meta Jaeger, now living on the farm, contended they did not sell the farm to the plaintiffs for $1,000 but transferred the deed in October, 1937, merely as a loan since they wanted to enter the Fritz-Reuter Altenheim in North Bergen, N. J.

The trial, which began Thursday, was a bitter "family fight" since plaintiff Meyer, a Princeton businessman, and the defendant, Jaeger, 69-year-old farmer, are first cousins, and knew one another "on the other side."

The farm involved four tracts, including several of woodlands. The elderly couple have been residing on the farm near Bursenville and the trial grew out of an ejectment suit.

With President Judge Hiram H. Keller presiding, the trial of Andorra Nurseries, Inc., Chestnut Hill, versus Thornton W. Tinkham, Lahaska, in an action to recover $250 got underway. The case involves the sale and planting of trees, shrubs and flowers dating from October 25, 1937.

Members of the jury are D. Lamar Roberts, Quakertown; James T. Skillman, New Hope; Howard Loux, Pennsylvania, R. D. 1; Henry R. Shadinger, Blooming Glen; Lester J. Allen, Cornwells Heights; Ward R. Strawn, Pleasant Valley; Ed. H. Taylor, Chalfont; Isabelle R. Cullen, Bristol; Linford Stauffer, Quakertown, R. D. 1; Charles E. Hobart, Quakertown; Marian B. Kellett, Morrisville, R. D. 1, and Claude A. Trauger, Ferndale.

Wendell F. Oliver, a representative of the Andorra Nurseries, Inc., the plaintiff, was the first witness in the trial.

He testified the first planting was made in October 25, 1937, at the defendant's home which was being renovated.

The original cost was $620.70 and the sum of $370 has been paid leaving a balance of $250 which is the base of the suit.

Government T. Enforce Price-Fixing Regulations

By Jack Vincent
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Apr. 29—(INS)—Price Administrator Leon Henderson today planned to blanket the nation's 1,970,000 wholesale and retail business firms under a life-or-death licensing system to enforce his sweeping orders freezing rents and setting ceiling prices on "virtually everything that Americans eat, wear or use."

icans eat, wear and use." The order will become effective May 11 on manufacturers and wholesale prices and on May 18 on retail costs.

Boy Scout Council of Bucks County Gets High Rating

Mr. Pitzonka pointed out that he was particularly gratified to receive this information as the function of a local boy scout council was not merely to recruit boys for Scouting but to provide the type of program that would keep them enrolled in scouting for as many years as possible.

Mr. Pitzonka further reported that he had just received a letter from Dr. James E. West, Chief Scout Executive, informing him that as a result of correspondence with Hon. Frank Knox, Secretary of the Navy and other navy officials, an announcement had been made by the Navy Department that special consideration would be given to Sea Scouts as officer material if they met the given requirements. First consideration will be given to Sea Scouts or leaders who have reached the Quartermaster rank in Seascouting, which corresponds to the Eagle rank in Boy Scouting.
